The School of Public Policy
Purpose Beyond Power

The School of Public Policy (SPP) at Central European University is a unique institution of teaching, research, and practice in Budapest, Hungary. It is a U.S.-accredited global institution. The language of instruction is English. We offer a multidisciplinary two-year master’s program that integrates knowledge, skills, and practice that has been designed to train a worldwide community that is committed to purpose beyond power. We are currently accepting applications for our MPA program.

We are proud to present the first issue of our quarterly newsletter to share with you some of the many stories and events that are taking place at SPP.

Thirty organizations from the public and private sectors applied to be Passion Project clients in fall 2014. Watch this video to learn more about the Passion Project experience.

The SPP Drone Lab takes flight under the wings of Assistant Professor Austin Choi-Fitzpatrick.
SPP is one of five schools that is piloting the Curriculum Open-access Resources in Economics (CORE) curriculum.

SPP’s Center for Conflict, Negotiation and Recovery hosts the Lemkin Reunion.

SPP’s Center for Media, Data and Society releases a comprehensive report on privacy breaches in Europe.

Nobel Prize Winner Joseph Stiglitz answers questions from SPP students.

SPP second-year student Rumbidzai Masango (MPA ’15) addresses the United Nations Human Rights Council on September 16.
Read our latest news on our website.

Any questions or comments? Email us at spp@ceu.hu.

Our mailing address is:
Nador u. 9, 1051 Budapest, Hungary

unsubscribe from this list  update subscription preferences